

Brew Hop Tour

With well-over 100 breweries, San Diego county is rapidly becoming the craft brew capital of the world. Here are some staples that we believe are a must see when venturing to San Diego.

Purchase an all-day Compass Card ($2 for the card, $5 for the day pass) and take the trolley around Downtown San Diego to enjoy the breweries in the area.

1. Bolt Brewery: Right down the street from Found Hotel San Diego, Bolt makes for a great first stop to grab a pint or taste local craft brew. Happy Hour Mon – Fri; $1 off pints & $2 off starters. Thurs. $8 flights. Mon. Beer + Burger + Fries $10 Try their Hard-Pressed Orange!
2. Ballast Point: Close to Found Hotel San Diego. Try one of their Sculpins! You can enjoy three 4oz tasters at this brewery for just $5. By far the best deal in town for tasting beer!

 Get on the Trolley at the Little Italy station and head to the Santa Fe Depot Center. Walk to Karl Strauss.

3. Karl Straus Brew Co: Close to Found Hotel San Diego. 4 – 6:30 PM Monday – Friday Happy Hour; pints cost $3.50 & pitchers are 12.95.

Walk back towards Santa Fe Depot Trolley station. Take it one exit to Civic center station. Exit and head to Resident Brewing Co.

4. Resident Brewing: Known for their relaxed vibe when it comes to creating beer, Resident Brewing has taken the San Diego spirit and embedded it into their craft beers. Their Vacation Coconut IPA is a fan favorite!

Walk back to Civic Center Trolley station. Take it to Park & Market Station. Exit and head towards Knotty Brewery Co.

5. Knotty Brewing Co: Their British and European style beers will not disappoint. Created with a clean and crisp style, Knotty beer has a great rapport with its guests! Check out their bar games and chat with their employees!
6. Half Door Brewing Co: With an array of eclectic beers on tap, Half Door has much to offer their bar patrons.
7. Stone Brewing Tap Room, Downtown: One of California's more well-known breweries, Stone has been recognized as the "All-Time Top Brewery on Planet Earth" by BeerAdvocate. So of course, you have to make a stop here. My personal favorite? The Tangerine Express IPA.

If you're up for one more head to Mission Brewery! If not, take the Trolley from Park and Market Station back towards Found Hotel San Diego!

8. Mission Brewing: If you're up for one last brewery, check out Mission Brews limited-edition series. Any of these beers will be a great final stop on your Found Brew Hop!

Take the Trolley from the 12th & Imperial station back to Found Hotel San Diego!
