

Rooftop Bar Hop

For those of us 21+ experience bar-hopping unlike any other city! Venture from rooftop to rooftop, checking out some of the coolest bars, exotic drinks, and breath-taking views that Chicago has to offer.

Here are our Top 7 rooftop picks:

1. Cindy's – Cindy's is a great spot to go to after work and before the sun goes down over Chicago. It gives a great perspective to The Bean and other Chicago art installations that call Millennium Park home. Classic cocktails and beverages are found at Cindy's.
2. London House Chicago – London House is one of the more popular venues for a rooftop bar solely because of their view of the Chicago River front. It's best to come here at night when it's a bit cooler outside and when the buildings are lit-up for the night.
3. Upstairs at the Gwen – Known for their Prosecco popsicles, Upstairs at the Gwen will give you a relaxed vibe while enjoying the skyscrapers that surround this fifth floor rooftop escape.
4. GreenRiver- Exquisite cocktails make up this sophisticated bar scene atop the 16th floor of Northwestern Memorial Hospital. Here, you can try an array of cocktails and creative foods while taking in the staples of the Chicago skyline.
5. Noyane – Up for some Japanese-style fair? Check out Noyane for their delicious sushi, sake, cocktails and much more while taking in sweeping views of Magnificent Mile.

6. Apogee – Elaborately dressed cocktails and swanky vibes will be found at the Apogee lounge. Their Nymph cocktail even comes with an edible butterfly!

7. Joy District – Joy District pulls away from the bar scene and enters into a more club-like atmosphere. The posh décor and people watching over River North will make you think that you've landed in downtown Manhattan. Enjoy their lavish views of the city.
